What is GoodSense?

The Bible talks more about money and possessions than any other topic except love. Clearly, this area is important to God. The Good $ense ministry seeks to serve every member of the body of Christ by providing an avenue for resisting the powerful force of the culture, understanding the heart and mind of God and promoting life change through teaching financial freedom from a biblical perspective.

This course helps you discover tools and develop skills that enable you to control your finances, rather than allowing your finances to control you. You will get practical help and guidance in:

- Prioritizing financial goals
- Developing a personalized spending plan
- Identifying action steps to reducing expenses
- Reducing debt, and much more
